Fatal Auto- Train Crash

Jerry Lee Belovich, 24, of 4336 Highway 462, was killed and a passenger in his auto was injured critically when the car struck a Granite City Steel Co. train at 3:05 a.m. Monday at the Edwardsville Road rail crossing.

They were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where Mr. Belovich was pronounced dead on arrival. The passenger, Minnie Bancroft, 16, of 3306 Kirkpatrick Homes, was transferred to Egan DeLoe Hospital in St. Louis.

Police said the Belovich car was headed south at a high rate of speed as two freight cars were being pushed by a locomotive across the road and that the auto skidded 75 feet to the point of impact. The engineer was Cecil Tanksley, 2729 Birch Ave.

Warning signs were flashing at the crossing and there was a signal flare on the train, according to the accident report. A relative said it was believed that Mr. Belovich was driving Miss Bancroft to the home of a friend in Venice. An inquest is pending.

Mr. Belovich was born in St. Louis and resided in this area 18 years. He was a storeowner foreman at American Steel

Search Resumes Near I-270 Bridge for Man

Dragging operations resumed at daybreak today in the vicinity of the Chain of Rocks Bridge on Interstate 270 for the body of a man who jumped or fell from the bridge into the Mississippi River about 2:30 p.m. yesterday.

Identity of the victim has not yet been learned. St. Louis Sixth District Police said this morning.

Police said that a motorist traveling on I-270 reported seeing a man park a car on the bridge and jump from the side. The auto was towed to Illinois, where authorities are attempting to verify its ownership.

The motorist, who notified police, said the man appeared tall and wore a dark suit. Elements of the U. S. Coast Guard and other emergency service units are conducting the search.

New Research Can't Aid John Allen, But Trip Brings Life-Long Memories

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

There were many high spots and one very depressing low moment during a holiday trip by John Allen Young and his family to Boston and Washington, D.C.

The 3-year-old Granite City boy received a personal gift from President Richard M. Nixon while visiting The White House, saw many new and wonderful sights and became an honorary member of the Green Berets at Fort Devens, Mass.

But his parents, Granite City Patrolman and Mrs. Albert Young, learned the new approach being developed by research-scientist Dr. Elliot Bersen of Boston cannot help the youngster, who is a victim of retinitis pigmentosa, a sight-deceiving ailment for which no cure is known and inevitably results in blindness upon reaching a specific stage.

Exhaustive tests lasting two days were conducted at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary where the consultation with the research specialist took place.

Results of an electroretinography examination disclosed that John Allen has lost too much of the peripheral vision in his eyes for the new sight-preserving technique used by Dr. Bersen to be effective.

The electro-retinography is ultra sensitive equipment designed to measure the degree and quantity of electrical impulses generated by the eye, the father explained.

The Youngs took John Allen to see Dr. Bersen upon learning in July from Dr. Stephen Podas of MacMillan Hospital and the Washington University faculty in St. Louis about the new theory being explored by the research ophthalmologist.

Dr. Podas had explained the concept being advanced by the Boston researcher was not a cure, but a delaying tactic which has opened up a new area in systematic investigation into retarding total blindness. The concept involves covering one eye with a special lens, blacking out vision completely and allowing the patient to use one eye only. When vision goes in the uncovered eye, the contact-style lens is removed and, hopefully, vision in the second eye still will remain for a period of time.

Janet and Al Young were cautioned before the trip the concept is so new that results cannot yet be concluded even as a delaying process and that all retinitis pigmentosa sufferers may not be aided by the procedure.

However, the news given the Youngs last July was the first inkling of hope the family had received that total blindness may be postponed to any degree.

"It was a great disappointment," the father said, "but we now know that we have done everything we could to try to help John Allen and we feel better for taking him to

Year's Permits Include Shopping Center $8.7 Million Construction

By MARION BARTOSIAK
Press-Record Staff Writer

A building permit to erect a new shopping center at Pontoon and Nameoki roads at a cost of $15 million, issued last week, boosted values of new construction in Granite City during 1972 to a total of $8,724,032.

The shopping center permit was issued to G-F Investment Co. of Kansas City, Mo. The contractor will be G. H. Sternberg & Co. of Granite City.

In other developments last week, permits were issued to the McDonald Corp. for an addition and remodeling of its drive-in restaurant at 1515 Johnson Road at a cost of $50,000; Labor Temple Association, 2014 State St., remodel interior, $13,225; Fred Rice, 2252 Washington Ave., install siding, $1,780; and Thomas McGroven, 2621 Cleveland Blvd., remodel interior, $900.

The activity for the year was described in 474 permits. They included such major projects as housing, nursing homes and commercial structures. The total easily topped the previous year, when 488 permits showed values of $2,883,652.

Permits in 1972 included 91 for homes and apartments, $2,128,264; 28 additions, $114,210; 92 garages and carports, $120,217; 162 permits for remodeling and repairs, $385,727; 60 for commercial-industrial purposes, $4,578,810; 14 mobile homes, $66,095; and 18 miscellaneous, $1,519,289, including some of the major projects.

In addition, there were 36 permits to raise structures at a cost of $8,077.

Construction activity included 58 homes in the Lexington subdivision by Dale Construction Co. at a cost of $654,000; a K-Mart Store at $15 million, remodeling of the Granite City High School Auditorium at a cost of $750,000 and the Parkside Apartment complex valued at $750,000.

Nestle Co. warehouse, $450,000; Colonial Haven Nursing Home, $320,000; Kroger Store addition at A Reilly Tar & Chemical Co.

building at $120,000; a commercial laundry at $115,000; a Granite City Steel Co. data processing annex at $109,000; and a Mobil Service Station at $86,000.

Monthly comparisons with 1971, listing 1972 totals first, follow: January, $147,200 and $34,500; February, $68,357 and $165,995; March, $304,713 and $168,625; April, $148,240 and $305,892; May, $420,425 and $69,444; June, $829,263 and $449,714; July, $1,198,735 and $68,620; August, $360,000 and $306,435; September, $64,575 and $434,460; October, $2,136,710 and $160,884; November, $1,355,460 and $509,265; and December, $1,690,305 and $64,651.

Biggest 1972 Political Story Was Dan Walker

By KEN WATSON
Copy News Service

Springfield—There's no doubt about Illinois' biggest political story of the year.

It was a surprising one and was named Dan Walker. Walker's defeat of organization-backed gubernatorial candidate Lt. Gov. Paul Simon in the Democratic primary will go down as one of the biggest upsets in the state's political history.

The number two Illinois political story of the year was Republican Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's tremendous comeback from what was recognized as an unprecedented low in personal popularity for an incumbent governor that brought him within 77,494 votes of victory.

The discussion as to why things turned out as they did in the governor's situation will go on and on.

But history will probably decide that the Walker phenomena resulted from the general tax revolt rocking across the entire United States in 1972 and focused in Illinois on Ogilvie's accomplishment of the state income tax and Simon's clear, if qualified, endorsement of it.

Aside from the governor races, another major surprising result in 1972 was the unprecedented swing in voter preference as reflected in the split-ticket balloting.

The coalition theory went down the drain in Illinois as elsewhere, as Republicans Charles H. Percy and William

Dr. Theis, 75, Dies

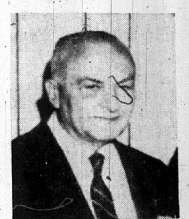

Dr. Edward Herman Theis, 75, of 2200 Bern Ave., who practiced medicine in Granite City from May 1929 until Dec. 23, 1971, when he retired because of ill health, and a well known civic and community leader, died at 3:25 p.m. Saturday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He maintained his medical offices at 1365A Niedringhaus Ave., above the former Miller's Drug Store, throughout his professional career as a physician and surgeon.

Dr. Theis was born in Mitchell, Dec. 2, 1897, and lived in this area his entire lifetime with the exception of time he was furthering his education and three years with the U.S. Army. He held the rank of major when he was discharged from the service.

The doctor began his education in Granite City Schools and then enrolled in Elmhurst College, Elmhurst, Ill., for two years. He attended Illinois College at Jacksonville for four years. After graduation he enrolled in the Washington University School of Medicine and took his residency at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

Following his graduation and residency, Dr. Theis served with the Army and later took post graduate work at Chicago Lying in Hospital.

Funds Distributed to Remedy Harvest Loss

State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon has announced that 167 banks in 73 counties have made formal application for deposit of state funds in response to his proposed program to aid farmers whose crops were severely damaged or lost because of moisture content delayed harvests. The 73 include Madison County.

"As we announced on Dec. 11," Dixon said Wednesday, "we have $25 million available at this time to use in this aid program. The deposit requests from the 167 banks who made formal application total almost $32.5 million."

He said all applications are being processed as quickly as possible and distributed in an equitable manner. About one-third of the $25 million was being transferred yesterday and the balance should be sent out by the end of this week, the treasurer said.

Under agreement between the state and participating banks, state funds earning current interest rates are deposited in banks which then arrange loans to farmers whose crops were lost or damaged because heavy autumn rains prevented farmers from getting into their fields. This was followed by ice and snow storms causing retention of moisture.

The higher the moisture content, the less a farmer is paid for his harvested crop. In some areas of Illinois, a combination of early ground freezing, a brief period of thawing and another extensive freezing made harvesting almost impossible.

The harvest failure aid program is one of a series of efforts by Dixon in which he "advocates the use of taxpayers' money to aid taxpayers."

Other programs in which state funds are used as public purpose funds include loans to farmers for crop blight losses, loans for college or other educational purposes, loans for communities to attract new industry, loans which would permit existing industry to expand, loans to attract new business to blighted urban areas, and loans to permit industries to install systems to fight air and water pollution.

Sue Ann Turner of Madison from Ronald Dale Turner of Collinsville. They were married Dec. 29, 1962, and separated March 24, 1972. Mental cruelty was charged. Her maiden name of Sue Ann McBrien was restored.

Delores Lee of St. Louis from Dean Lee Jr. of Granite City. They were married Oct. 26, 1965, in St. Louis and separated in February 1972. Mental cruelty was charged.

Della Jean Smith from David Gerald Smith, both of Granite City. They were married Feb. 11, 1966, and separated July 14, 1972. Cruelty was charged. Custody of three children was given to the mother, and the father is to pay child support of $15 per week per child.

STEREO STOLEN
Cathy Clayton, 1312 Meridian Ave., reported to police that her apartment was entered between 4 p.m. Friday and 5 p.m. Saturday. An AM-FM stereo player with two speakers was stolen.

HOUSE BREAK-IN
Robert C. Miller, 2206 Delmar Ave., at 10:30 p.m. Saturday, reported that thieves forced the front door of his house but nothing was known to be missing. According to police, the home was burglarized about the same time last year.

A program to update public housing facilities operated by the Madison County Housing Authority will be conducted during 1973, according to plans being developed by the agency board.

The authority has applied for a grant of $1,435,000 from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), and Edward Foley, new executive director of the authority, said HUD officials verbally have agreed to grant $25 million during the next two years for modernization.

The money would be in addition to a HUD contribution of $106,882 to help finance the authority's new operating budget of $662,000, which will have a deficit of $26,168. The deficit is to be covered by reserve funds of about $135,000 now held by the county agency.

However, Foley warned that the projects are to be updated only if the county produces improved receipts, and that the federal government has taken the attitude that it will not be responsible for management or mismanagement of public housing projects.

Rent Schedule
With that in mind, the housing board will utilize a new rent schedule, and William Pistrui, board chairman, noted that the authority is overburdened with low rents, applying especially to tenants on public aid.

"Our only hope of balancing our 1973 budget is getting more people in the high rent bracket, and no public aid people," Pistrui said.

The policy will affect tenants in authority-operated units in Madison, Venice, Collinsville, Alton and East Alton.

Three rent ranges have been established in new tenant selection guidelines issued by HUD.

List Rent Ranges
Thirty per cent of the housing units, will be in the high rent range. A range of $70 to $82 a month; 45%, or 333 units, will be in the B range of $47 to $70 a month; and 25%, or 215 units, will be in the low-income C range of none to $41 per month.

To help stay within the operating budget, the board removed provisions for full-time and part-time social workers for the various projects, $1,000 for office equipment replacement, an additional painter and a new truck.

Foley noted that the authority has not had a modernization program in six years, "and it shows. We could have serious breakdowns."

Improvements Specified
Specifically allocated for the various projects are new electric distribution system, new lighting, parking areas, drainage, playground equipment, base and wall cabinets and sink changes in kitchens, replacement of door locks, water pipes in utility rooms, water heaters, gutters and downspouts, new ranges and refrigerators, new elevators cables for high-rise projects, ventilator fans, roof re-tarring, entry lights at outside doors, observatories on front doors, coin-operated washers and dryers and painting.

Most of the improvements were requested by tenant councils in Madison, Collinsville and Alton.

Pistrui, a Collinsville architect, commented that Foley was solving the authority's fiscal problems and "developing the tenant selection measure."

"Because of his work, I feel the Madison County Housing Authority will be a model agency for Illinois," Pistrui said, "and may mean more construction, though we're not going to ask for this until we get our house in order."

Rites for Relative
Of Local Residents

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Christian Church in White Hall, Ill., for Mrs. Anna Bower, 83, of White Hall, mother of Mrs. Harold (Pearl) McConnell of Granite City.

Mrs. Bower died at 8 a.m. Dec. 25 at the Boyd Memorial Hospital in Carrollton, Ill.

Other survivors include a son, Eugene Bower of Litchfield, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. F. E. Crowsfoot of Granite City and Mrs. Edgar Brown of Jacksonville, Ill.; one brother, Charles H. Gagner of Taylorville, Ill.; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Retarded Children's Unit
Needs Coupons for Bus

The Madison County Association for Retarded Children is still collecting Betty Crocker coupons and any area resident who wishes to contribute to the drive may mail them to Mrs. Terry Gallina, Box 418, East Lake Drive, Edwardsville, Ill. 62025.

The association will use the coupons to acquire a bus for transporting the children.

Tax Relief Forms Available From State Revenue Office

Copley News Service
Springfield — Advertisements are appearing in newspapers throughout Illinois, telling the state's senior citizens about Illinois "circuit breaker" designed to bring about real estate tax relief.

It is for those over 65 years of age or disabled, if they own or own their home and had a household income of less than $10,000 in 1972.

The General Assembly appropriated $32 million to be used for the program — a system of refunds on money paid in taxes.

The maximum refund that oldsters may get is $500. The refunds won't be made until next year.

The ads are carrying a form which senior citizens can fill out and send to the Illinois Revenue Department. This will also act as a registration form. A form can also be acquired from the Revenue Department, P. O. Box 3124, Springfield, Ill. 62708.

The "circuit breaker" is designed to ease the tax burden on the state's senior citizens. Several other states have similar programs. With senior citizens bogged down with taxes, the state steps in to help alleviate the burden. Thus comes the phrase "circuit breaker."

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie and his staff continually pushed for passage of the "circuit breaker." Ogilvie had the plan early in his administration.

Revenue Department officials are pointing out that if people write to the office for a form, their name will be placed on a list and the forms will be mailed out.

The officials say it will take probably until about March before they are sent out.

This program is one of several designed to lessen the property tax burden.

State Has Jobs Open -- Civil Service Tests This Month

Civil Service examinations for 21 job classifications will be administered in the Chicago and Springfield test centers on Jan. 27, Alan A. Drazek, director of the Illinois Department of Personnel, has announced.

Drazek said the names of those who pass the examinations will be placed on eligibility lists in 33 Illinois counties.

Seven classifications are listed in the nonprofessional category.

These are activity program aide, baker helper for Logan County only, educator aide, ferry operator, historical site guide for Sangamon County, prison food supervisor and radiologic technologist.

Applicants for the radiologic technologist position must be certified by the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists.

Monthly starting salaries for these positions range from $401 to $811.

Professional job classifications include activity therapist, archivist, conservation land, landscape architect and crime studies analyst for Sangamon County; chemist for Cook and Sangamon Counties; chief insurance company examiner for Cook County; crime studies field analyst and optometrist for Kankakee County.

Applicants for the optometrist position must possess a valid license to practice optometry in Illinois.

Salaries for these positions range from $811 to $1,280 per month.

A number of executive and administrative position classifications are listed.

Those interested in a complete list of the job classifications and detailed information concerning them should contact the Selection and Employment Services Division, Illinois Department of Personnel, State Office Building, 401 S. Spring St., Springfield, Ill. 62766.

Gillie Outlines Four Goals for Boy Scout Board

Melvin Gillie, manager of the W. T. Grant Store and newly elected president of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, outlined four goals for 1973 at the Boy Scout executive board meeting Thursday in the Granite City Trust and Savings bank.

"I would like to set four goals for us to achieve by November 1973," he said. "First, I want the Boy Scout Council operating within its income, and sufficient income to carry out an effective scouting program in the council area."

"Second, I want to see us in a new office building. Third, I want us to have an active boy membership of 4,037, and fourth, a progressive and accomplishing council."

The appointments recommended by President Gillie of operating committee chairmen for 1973 were approved by the board. Operating committee chairmen approved are W. F. "Mike" Strange, Madison, camping chairman; Dr. Thomas Layloff, activities and Norman Kinder, finance, both of Granite City; Robert Simon, organization of extension and Jack Holschouser, exploring, both of Edwardsville; Dr. Dan Elliott of Troy, health and safety; Lou Bokke of Collinsville, leadership training; William Winter, public relations; and Leo Schermer, advancement, both of Granite City.

Dr. Jefferson Ware, Edwardsville, vice-president of the Lewis and Clark Junior College, became a member of the board by action taken at the meeting and was officially welcomed by Gillie.

Mike Billeby of Venice, chief of the Cahokia Lodge Order of the Arrow is a national honor camp counselor within the Boy Scouts of America. Billeby called the board's attention to the Jan. 13 "Journey to the moon" event to be held at the Cahokia Mound State Park. Billeby invited members of the board to visit the event.

Illinois Nursing Homes Being Required to Give Frequent Medical Care, Fire Safety

Copley News Service

Springfield — Physicians who accept patients needing long-term care and then fail to provide it are a main cause of jeopardized nursing home licenses, a public health computer study has shown.

Russell Bryant of the long-term care section of the Division of Health Facilities in the Illinois Public Health Department said department regulations require a patient to have the physician of his own choice. In the case of patients receiving public aid or Medicare, further guidelines are spelled out quite distinctly.

These include, he said, that patients requiring skilled nursing care must be seen by their physicians at least once a month, while those needing intermediate care should be seen by him at least quarterly.

In addition, medication programs for patients are to be reviewed at least every 30 days in the case of patients needing skilled care, and at least once in every 60 days for those requiring less than skilled care services.

A computer survey he ran in September, Bryant said, showed that over 92% of all patients have physicians of their own choice, but only 70% of these were in compliance with the rules on visits and medication review.

Another 15% were shown as having "minor" irregularities, and still another 15% were "significantly deficient" in these areas, Bryant said.

Some of the problem, Bryant added, may be a question of education and communication with physicians. The department has been contacting the state and county medical societies to emphasize requirements, he said.

The department sometimes has to go to the patients, he said, and point out that the doctor's attitude is jeopardizing the license for the facility, and suggest that if the doctor cannot or will not fulfill his obligation, the family should seek another doctor.

The other main area involved in licensing problems involves the buildings themselves, particularly in the area of space requirements and fire safety regulations.

"Many older homes, Bryant said, are run by dedicated, conscientious and compassionate people but you just aren't safe in the buildings."

The cost of converting such homes to meet standards for floor space per patient, proper corridors and such is often prohibitive, he added.

In the last 90 days, roughly 10 more long-term care facilities in the state have been closed for failure to meet state standards for care or safety, he said.

Generally, the closed facilities are offset by new "complying" facilities so far as numbers of beds are concerned.

Unfortunately, he said, the new operations are not necessarily always in the same areas where the closed facilities had been providing service.

In an attempt to reduce problems involving physician support of regulations, Bryant said, the department is attempting to determine in how many cases the patient could go to the doctor—if there were transportation and appointments available—instead of having to wait for the doctor to come to them.

There are presently about 1,050 long-term care facilities in Illinois, Bryant said, of which about 280 provide skilled nursing care.

Between 450 and 500 provide intermediate care, and the remainder offer sheltered care.

All are licensed and inspected by the department and each must meet certain standards for its own type of operation.

Criminal Trial Dates to Be Set At Arraignments

A system to expedite prosecution of criminal cases is being instituted by Madison County Circuit Court, according to James Wallis, head of the criminal division of the office of the circuit clerk.

In the method started last week, trial dates will be set at the time of arraignment of defendants in felony cases which will be assigned to specific judges. Two teams of prosecutors, each consisting of two members of the state's attorney's staff, will handle the cases, Wallis said.

The criminal trial docket for January lists cases for each of the first three weeks of the month, with the fourth week continued cases, the clerk said. Some of the cases have been on dockets for more than a year without going to trial.

Trials for five defendants charged in two Granite City crimes were set for March 5 during arraignments last week. The defendants are:

Jimmy Ray, 33, Barbara Milton, 19, and Robert Prince, all of Granite City, charged with the armed robbery of Darla Hampton of Granite City on Nov. 27.

Susan Gould, 19, and Cathy Weaver, 19, both of East St. Louis, charged with burglary at the B & P Key Shop in Granite City on Nov. 18.

CAUSE OF DAMAGE GIVEN: Damage to paint on the auto of Clifton Williamson, Edwardsville, on the parking lot at St. Elizabeth Hospital last week, resulted when a car door was opened against the car and was not caused by a hit and run accident, it was reported Friday.

New Bridge Series to Begin at Park Center

A new series of bridge classes for beginners will start Wednesday, Jan. 10, at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos avenues, under sponsorship of the Granite City Park District.

Mrs. Helen Meyer will instruct the 10-week course, scheduled to take place at the center on successive Wednesday nights at 7 o'clock, according to Harold Brown, park superintendent.

Instruction will be provided residents of the park district without charge. Interested persons may register in advance by calling the Wilson Park office, at 877-3059.

Registration Underway For Winter at SIUE

Open registration for the winter academic quarter is being held today at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Lines in the University Center's Meridian Hall will be open until 6:30 p.m. No appointment is necessary.

Robert Bruker, SIUE director of admissions and records, said any student in good academic standing having taken courses at the university within the last year may register today without filling out a permit for re-enrollment.

Fees may be paid during registration. The deadline for fee payment is Thursday. Winter quarter classes begin at 4:30 p.m. today.

Driver Hurt, Another Charged After Crash

A small sports car stopped in the roadway in the 2000 block of Nameoki Road with its rear lights flashing at 3:20 a.m. Saturday, was struck from behind and the driver injured by a vehicle whose operator left the scene.

James C. Webster, 30, of 2215 Charles St., was halted by police in the 2800 block of Nameoki Road shortly after the accident. As he alighted from the auto, officers saw a gun on his hip and charged him with unlawful use of weapons and leaving the scene of an accident.

Driver of the sports car, John A. Hutton, 24, of St. Louis, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a head cut and underwent x-rays before being released.

Webster was taken to the police station where he complained of having a heavy condition. An ambulance was summoned to transfer him to hospital, but he decided not to go, officers said.

State May Sue to Avoid Big Cut in U. S. Welfare Funds

Copley News Service

Springfield—Court action may be the next step in Illinois' fight against having federal participation in welfare programs drastically reduced.

Edward T. Weaver, director of the Illinois Public Aid Department, has released copies of letters sent on behalf of 31 states and territories to officials of the U. S. Health, Education and Welfare Department.

The letters ask for more time in which to reply to the new, proposed regulations—objecting that such stringent and sudden measures are not justified, and charging that present federal requirements hamper rather than help obtain adequate controls over payments.

In a statement accompanying the announcement of the letters, Weaver said "a number" of the 31 states and territories have indicated their desire to take joint court action should it become necessary.

Such court action might be started early in 1973 if HEW "does not respond to the requests made in the letters," Weaver said.

The furor arises from an announcement made in Washington early in December that proposed payments by HEW to the states and territories would be adjusted to exclude amounts allegedly paid to ineligible cases, or overpayments.

Illinois, the state stands to lose at least $15 million in the first six months of the new year, and presumably as much or more in following periods. Three public assistance programs in the state are supported, roughly on a 50-50 basis, with federal and state funds. They are aid to families with dependent children; assistance to the aged, blind and disabled and medical assistance.

When first announced, the states were given only 20 days to respond, instead of the customary 30 days, a time period which later was extended to the middle of January.

After initial protests by states facing cutbacks, HEW announced that the proposed regulations would become effective not later than April 1.

The states interpret this to mean that the withholding action could still begin any time after the middle of January.

The American Public Welfare Association's board of directors has unanimously urged the HEW to withdraw the regulations, and in another resolution requested a meeting with HEW officials to develop "positive alternatives."

Refuses to Leave Home; Conduct Charge Filed

Augustine R. Becerra, 35, of 801 Niedringhaus Ave., was charged with disorderly conduct on a complaint signed by his wife, Mrs. Barbara Becerra, after he refused to leave her home at 1825 Maple St., and police were summoned.

The incident occurred at 2:20 a.m. Saturday. Becerra was released at 6:35 a.m. Saturday on $25 bond.

Venice Man Arrested On Assault Charge

George Sherrod Jr., 25, of 113 Venice Homes, Venice, was arrested on charges of aggravated assault and no firearms identification card at 6:25 p.m. Saturday.

Madison police received a complaint from Lloyd Hemingway, 213 Second St., Madison, who said a man had pulled a gun on him in Garrett's tavern, 337 Weaver St., Venice. Police later entered Hemingway's home and said they found Sherrod there eating a sandwich. When Hemingway told police Sherrod had a gun, Sherrod struck Hemingway, police said. Sherrod is being held by Venice police pending a hearing.

Car Rammed on Nameoki, Two Youths Arrested

Alex Malzynski, 19, of 2153 Robert St., and Robert Clay Duncan, 20, of Rural Route One, Box 345, were charged with resisting arrest, disorderly conduct and intoxication at 1 a.m. Sunday following a disturbance at Nameoki Road and Clark Avenue.

Police received a call that an auto was being rammed. At the scene they were informed by John Ireland that a car had struck his auto several times in the rear. Police took Malzynski and Duncan to the police station where the two young men allegedly resisted the officers while being booked. They are being held pending a hearing.

THEFT OF COAT

James L. Steel, 2816 Forest Blvd. reported at 5:45 a.m. Monday to police that his black coat was stolen from inside Big Jenny's tavern New Year's eve. The coat contained car keys and miscellaneous papers.

Comments Being Sought on 12-Foot River Channel—Here to Chicago

Major General Ernest Graves of Chicago's division engineer, North Central Division, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, has sent federal state agencies for comment the final draft of the Phase I report on the Upper Mississippi River 12-Foot Channel Study and the Illinois Waterway 12-Foot Channel Study.

The draft recommends against any further study at this time of a 12-foot navigation channel on the Mississippi River from Grafton, Ill., upstream to Minneapolis, Minn., because the cost would exceed the benefits.

Mal Landfill Issue May Return to County Board

An application by the Mal Corp. for a special use permit to operate a landfill on Chouteau Island is expected to be re-submitted to the Madison County Board at its Jan. 17 meeting following an inspection of the area last week by some board members.

A motion which would have approved a 246-acre landfill operation through a 22-year special use permit failed by one vote at the Dec. 30 meeting of the County Board, but following the inspection, one of the members who voted against it said he now is ready to submit a compromise resolution.

He is James Heit of Godfrey who said he was impressed with plans for a perforated drainage tile system which would prevent pollution. His compromise would allow the Mal Corp. to operate 100 acres for the new landfill.

Three other dissenting board members on the four conducted by Kenneth Harbarger, Mal executive, said they remained unconvinced. They are: Mel Elble of Wood River, James Greene of East Alton and Sybil Belliss of Rosewood Heights.

One Vote Shy
The county's Zoning Board of Appeals had recommended denial of the Mal petition, and the effort to override the appeals board received the support of 21 members, one shy of the three-quarters necessary.

There is some doubt over the legality of another vote if it is reintroduced this month as the county zoning ordinance states that no rehearing shall be held on a denied appeal for a period of 12 months unless new evidence is presented to the chairman.

Louis Whitsett of Nameoki Township maintained, however, that a resolution to deny Mal's request was never voted on by the County Board but only a motion to override the denial.

Alton May of Alton, chairman of the board's land use committee, said he will ask the office of the state's attorney for an opinion before the next meeting.

Harbarger told the guest board members that the present landfill area on Chouteau Island will be exhausted by February.

Dissenting Arguments
Mrs. Belliss said she would attempt to arrange a meeting between board members, the state Environmental Protection Agency and other groups to hear dissenting arguments.

She also said she wanted to know the identity of some of the landfill stockholders, suggesting that there is an awful lot of politics mixed in it.

The new landfill site has been approved by the state EPA. Harbarger said majority opinion in the Mal case is held by United Disposal Corp. of St. Louis, which is owned by F.C.A. Services of Boston which operates landfills in 27 states.

He said the company plans to follow the recommendation of the state to get as much water flowing through the landfill as possible to stabilize the garbage.

Harbarger said such stabilization can be done in 17 years while most landfills in the county would continue to leak contaminants after 200 years.

He said the proposed landfill would receive inspections by the EPA also every day and that no hazardous substances as lead or acids would be dumped.

Paul Hawkins, county sanitation officer, said that there is a critical need for expansion of the landfill.

It favors further study leading to a full survey report to Congress on a 12-foot navigation channel on the Mississippi River from the mouth of the Ohio River at Cairo, Ill., upstream to Grafton and from that point up the Illinois Waterway to Chicago.

The benefits of a 12-foot channel from Cairo to Chicago are estimated to exceed the cost by a ratio of 5.4 to 1 on an annual basis. Estimated construction cost is $220 million.

The draft report released today combines the findings of two separate but related studies authorized by a series of Congressional resolutions dating from 1943: one study covering the Mississippi River between Cairo and Minneapolis and the other covering the Illinois Waterway from Grafton to Chicago.

Both the Mississippi River and the Illinois Waterway have existing nine-foot navigation channels, each with a series of locks and dams built, maintained and operated by the Army Corps of Engineers.

They form an integrated navigation system with more than half the tonnage of the system above Grafton moving on the Illinois Waterway. Purpose of the studies is to determine whether Congress should authorize the construction of a 12-foot channel to accommodate larger vessels.

THREE-AUTO ACCIDENT

Autos driven by Harold Harper, 1415 Niedringhaus Ave., Vera A. Hudson, East St. Louis, and Charles J. Young, 2917 Forest Ave., were in an accident at 7:40 a.m. Friday at 20th Street and Madison Avenue. The Hudson woman was charged with a traffic signal violation, and Young was charged with failure to exhibit a driver's license.

CHARGED IN MISHAP

John F. Huber, 2501a Washington Ave., was charged with driving with a revoked license after his auto struck the car of Patrick E. Fuller, 2707 Roosevelt Ave., parked at his home at 8 p.m. Thursday.

AUTOS IN ACCIDENT

Autos driven by Ruby Range, 2666 Washington Ave., and Bruce J. Hahpton, 2118a Edison Ave., were in an accident at 12:30 p.m. Thursday at Nameoki Road and St. Clair Avenue.

GC Underwater Recovery Team Now Known as BURT

The local underwater recovery squad henceforth will be designated by the acronym "BURT." It was announced today by Don Digrolamo, team captain and Vance Weiss, armisteur.

BURT, formed from the initial letters of the team's new official name—Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team—will be used as jacket insignia, to identify equipment and on information and identification cards carried by squad members.

Thirteen qualified scuba divers, all members of the Bubblemasters Scuba Club of Granite City, comprise the team personnel, Weiss said.

The group works closely with civil defense authorities, state, county and local police departments and the state's attorney's office for whom evidence has been recovered from the chain of Rocks Canal, Mississippi River and nearby lakes and drainage canals.

In addition to assisting police departments in the four local communities, the team has operated in conjunction with Collinsville and Edwardsville law enforcement officers, Weiss explained.

Divers furnished their own equipment, frequently costing between $500 to $700, and air tanks for the diving tanks is provided by the Bubblemasters Club.

Services offered by the team are free, Weiss said, adding that anyone in need of its specialized assistance may contact local police or CD officials to get immediate aid.

Other officers on the squad are Phil Lamm, 1st lieutenant; Rich Grizzard, 2nd lieutenant.

Riverview Repeats, Hosts 2nd in 12th Granite City Holiday Wrestling Tourney

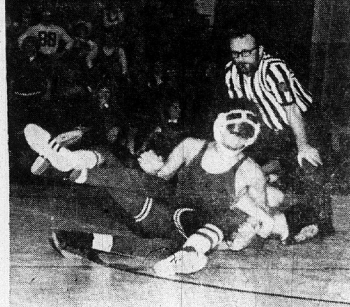

Granite City remains the leading winner of its 12-year-old holiday wrestling tournament but could not deny Riverview Gardens High School a second consecutive tourney championship Thursday night.

Riverview chalked up 116½ points to second-place Granite City's 84½.

Pekin placed third with 67½ and the next three schools were closely bunched—Waukegan, 54; Rockton, 53 and Bloomington 52½.

Hazelwood was seventh with 43 points, Ritenour eighth with 41½ and Belleville East ninth with 40½.

Other team totals were Jacksonville 36, Peoria Richwoods 22½, East St. Louis Lincoln 27½, McClellan North 25, Steven Decatur 14, Carbondale 12½.

FINAL BOUT OF TOURNEY here Thursday night was a title match between 112-pound champion Martin Fowler of Riverview Gardens and Runyon of Pekin.

and Wood River, seven. No Warrior captured individual championships in the meet, but 126-pound Dennis Ragan defeated by 5-4 the eventual titlist in his weight division, Brian Hill of Bloomington.

Pinning five of his foes, Hill received the top trophy of the tournament.

One of those pinned by Hill avoided being pinned by Ragan, who gained an 11-0 decision, was outpointed 1-2 and then won 4-0, 9-1, 3-2 and 5-4 to capture second place.

Other Warrior runners-up were Pat McMillan, 98 pounds, Phil Lapinski, 105, John Niebur, 112, and Kerry Johnson, 119.

McMillan won a referee's decision, prevailed 12-0, lost 3-4, won 14-0 and 4-2 and lost 3-4 in the final bout.

Lapinski won 6-1 and 7-2, pinned an opponent in three minutes and 56 seconds, lost 0-6 and won 4-2 and 13-2.

Niebur gained pins in 1:52 and 5:17 and then had scores of 8-5, 11-1, 3-1 and 0-8.

Johnson's scores in order were 9-8, 5-3, 16-4, 1-8, 7-5 and 4-2.

Dan Heath, the 132-pound GCHS entrant, lost 2-17, won 13-2, won in 2:44, gained a 6-2 decision and lost 0-4.

The 138-pound Warrior 'grappler, Dave Rushing, won a default on an opponent's injury, lost 2-8, won 7-6 and 3-2 and lost 2-6.

Ken Nolen, 145, lost 2-7, won in 3:46, won 7-0 and 9-5 and was outscored 2-5.

Brian Wilson, 155, won in 3:05, lost 4-5, won in 4:58, won 11-3 and lost 5-2.

Jack Schopley, 167 pounds, had scores of 6-3, 8-3, 7-2, 1-12 and 0-2.

The 185-pounder, John Avedisian, won on a pin in 3:53 before losing in 2:57 and 2:31.

Heavyweight John McMillan recorded scores of 7-1, 5-4, 2-6 and 3-4.

Looking back on the successful two-day tourney, GCHS Wrestling Coach William Schmitt was able to note both a record attendance and unusually close and exciting competition.

"It was a fierce tournament. We won a lot of our bouts in the final seconds—and lost the same way," Schmitt told the Press-Record.

Although Granite City fell short of first place as Riverview successfully defended its crown, the Warriors were a solid second among the 16 high schools.

GCHS again showed consistent strength in the five lightest weights—a pattern that has prevailed at the local school for most of the past quarter century.

Key Players Foul, GCHS Loses in Pontiac Tourney

"We were in real foul trouble early in the second quarter when Tom Vrenick and Tom Paterson each committed their fourth foul, and then when Paterson fouled out we were really hurt having better than half a game still to play," GCHS cage Coach Don Defending said.

The Granite City High School Basketball Warriors lost their second game Thursday at the Pontiac Tourney in an overtime battle against the host club 68-67.

The Warriors were ahead 12-10 at the end of the first quarter and 30-27 at the half.

The third quarter killed the Warriors as Pontiac outscored them 22-12 to take a 49-42 lead

Press-Record Sports

going into the final period.

Fourth quarter action saw the Warriors stage a comeback effort outscoring their opposition 16-11, to force the game into overtime.

"Due to fouls I had to play two sophomores, two juniors and only one senior, but they made a fine effort to win," Defending continued. "Gene Logg, Greg Gauen, and Cary Simpson have no varsity experience. We had 21 more shots at the basket than Pontiac but only managed to make one more field goal. This is real cold shooting and I am going to have to give the younger players more game time if they can hit the basket. When you can't hit the basket you can't win ball games."

The Warriors were 24 out of 79 from the floor for a shooting average of 30%. Pontiac hit 23 in 58 attempts for 39% in field goals.

The Warriors committed 28 fouls, allowing Pontiac to make 22 points out of 34 attempts from the charity line. GCHS made 19 in 24 tries from the line.

The Warriors dominated the boards 36-34 with Mike Martinez, who is only 5-10, leading the way in snagging 10.

GCHS had 15 turnovers to Pontiac's 26.

Martinez led the Warriors in scoring as he chalked up 24 big ones. Other Warriors scorers were Vrenick who garnered 16 points in less than half a game, Greg Gauen, 8, Mark Gauen, 7, Logg, 5, Cary Simpson, 3, and Brett Champion and Tom Paterson 2.

The Warriors now have a 4-4 overall record.

The local cagers will host Collinsville Friday for a Southwestern Conference game beginning at 8:15 p.m.

Trojan Cagers Split in Tourney

The Madison High School basketball Trojans returned from the Edwardsville tourney Friday with a 2-2 record and the third-place consolation championship.

Losing their opener to Lincoln, Ill., the No. one-rated team in the state Wednesday 23-46, Madison came back Thursday to overpower Gillespie 37-34.

In Friday's action the Trojans lost in the morning to Triad 71-69, but came back again to defeat Bethalto 58-44. Against Gillespie the Trojans led at the quarters by 12-6, 29-14 and 44-29.

Jerry Belford dominated the scoring with 33 points for Madison.

The Trojans led in field goals 22-15 and free throws 13-4. Madison committed 13 fouls and Gillespie 16.

Other Trojans scoring were Rudolph Bradley 5, Anthony Matthews, Charles Lucas and Ron Glasper 4, and Roger Glasper, Chris and Jeff Stanley 2.

The Triad Knights outlasted the Madison Trojans in Friday morning 71-69.

The Trojans took a first quarter lead of 17-10 over Triad, and held on at the half 33-30. In the third quarter the Trojans lost the lead and were one point down 47-46, only to be outscored in the final quarter 24-23 for the two-point defeat.

Charity tosses contributed to the Trojan loss as Madison committed 17 personal fouls and allowed the Knights to score 11 from the line. Triad committed 10 fouls, giving Madison only five free ones.

The Knights controlled the backboards 32-23 and had four men score in double figures. In field goals it was Madison ahead 32-30.

Top Trojan point-maker was Lucas with 22, followed by Bel-ford 18, Roger Glasper 10, Matthews 8, Stanley and Bradley 3.

Madison did better for the consolation third-place title Friday afternoon as in downing Bethalto 58-44.

"The Trojan defense held Bethalto to one point in the first quarter and continued to hold the lead at the end of every quarter 26-17 and 36-28 and Madison outpointed Bethalto in the final quarter 22-16.

Bethalto was too man with 23 for Madison followed by Lucas 17, Matthews 12, Roger Glasper 4 and Bradley 2.

Madison led in field goals 27-19, but it was Bethalto in charity toss 6-4. Bethalto out-fouled the Trojans 13-12.

"It was a good tournament with some powerful teams," Trojan Coach Larry Graham commented. "We played well even against Lincoln and you can't find a tougher team than that. I was surprised to see how well Triad has improved since we beat them earlier in the season."

"We still need a five-man shooting team. We only have four fellows that can do any scoring."

The Trojans are now 6-3 overall as they travel to meet Belleville East Saturday at 8:15 p.m.

Venice Captures Freeburg Crown

The Venice High School Red Devils won the Freeburg basketball tournament by defeating the Waterloo Bulldogs in the championship game Friday 74-54.

Venice has won the tournament six times in the past eight years.

The Devils are now 10-0 and along with Collinsville held the distinction of being the only undefeated team in the area. Collinsville won the Carbondale tournament.

The first few minutes of the championship tilt looked bad for Venice as Waterloo scored the first six points, but Venice came from behind to take the lead in the first quarter 15-12.

The Devils increased the lead at half-time 33-20 and at the end of the third quarter they increased it to 58-34. In the final quarter Waterloo outpointed Venice 20-16.

Ron Henry, 6-5 center for the Devils, sank 14 field goals out of 15 attempts plus 2 free throws for 30 points. From the floor the Devils led 34-23, but from the charity line it was the Bulldogs 34-23.

Other Devils scoring were Cornelius Wiley 13, Ray Mosby 12, Tony Sittin 8, Dan Severs 5 and J. B. Harmon, Mike Logan, and Jim Simmons 2.

In the semi-final action the Devils overpowered Aviston Central of Breesee Thursday 62-49.

It was anybody's game the first half. At the end of the first quarter it was Venice ahead by one point 12-11 but at half time it was 30-30.

The Devils took the third quarter lead 47-37 and continued to outscore Aviston 15-12 in the final quarter.

From the floor the Devils led 23-18 and were ahead in charity throws 16-13.

Henry was again the top pointmaker for the Devils with 24, followed by Mosby 13, Sittin 10, Severs 9 and Wiley 6.

In the opening two games of the tournament Sandoval went down 44-51 and then the Devils burned Greenville 74-59.

"We are very happy to win the tournament again and our boys have worked very hard," Coach Bill Ohlendorf said.

"The team did a very good job but I still feel we are not playing up to our full potential."

The Red Devils will play their first home game Jan. 9 when they host East St. Louis Lincoln.

MR. AND MRS. LARRY E. DAYTON. They exchanged wedding vows at St. John Lutheran Church in a double ring ceremony at seven o'clock in the evening. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrell E. Smith, 615 Fleming Place, the bride is the former Pamela Sue Smith.

HOLIDAY MEETING OF BUZZIN DOZEN CLUB

The Buzzin Dozen Club met at the home of Mrs. Shirley Vaughn, 4 West Lockhaven, Edwardsville, for its holiday gathering.

The evening was spent playing bingo, with prizes going to Mesdames Shirley Vaughn, Billie Benda, Dolly Smith, Karen Catter and Ann Hecht. Refreshments were served to these mentioned and Mesdames Toni Holmes, Dessi Severing, Linda Draper, Jackie Seago, Marilyn Cason and Ruth Smith.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ann Hecht, 2200 Dawn Place.

Pamela Sue Smith and Larry Dayton Are Wed

Miss Pamela Sue Smith, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrell E. Smith, 615 Fleming Place, and Larry Eugene Dayton, son of Mrs. Minnie Dayton, 2201 Rock Road and the late Ralph Dayton, were united in marriage in an early evening ceremony on Dec. 23 at St. John Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Samuel Boda performed the double ring service at seven o'clock. Preceding the bridal couple down the white carpeted aisle were Miss Deborah K. Smith, a sister of the bride, maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Mrs. Phyllis Smith, a sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Mary E. Ford, the bride's cousin and Miss Connie Ingram.

Nikki Lynn Smith, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl and was escorted by the ring bearer, Kenny Davis, a nephew of the groom.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was George Turner, John Ford, Ronald Flor, Dean Ambrecht, all cousins of the bride, Gene Smith, a brother of the bride and David Dayton, the groom's brother, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

The bride's attendants were dressed alike in silk-sheer high-collared gowns in holly berry red. They were designed in an Empire style with leg-of-mutton sleeves and long, slightly flared skirts.

Each wore a white fur pill box hat and carried a white fur muff, accented with holly.

A white velvet frock made with a high round neckline trimmed with lace and red velvet ribbon was worn by the bride.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown designed by her mother created of white silk-sheer velvet, featuring an Empire bodice with leg-of-mutton sleeves. Lace appliques, etched with seed pearls, defined the neckline, high-rise, waist and cuffs.

She wore a Juliet cap of white velvet embellished with lace and pearls to secure her veil of bridal illusion that extended into a full sweep train. She held a white satin prayer book topped with white tea roses.

Mrs. Smith selected a gown designed with a gray chiffon bodice and silver brocade skirt, complemented with silver accessories. She wore a corsage of pink tea roses.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Dayton, was attired in a lilac double-knit dress with black accessories. Her flowers were white tea roses.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception given at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall following the ceremony.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the bride attended Famous Arts School in Ash-burne, Conn., and Venice-Lin-pire school Technical School. She is now employed as a nurse aide at Madison County Nursing Home in Edwardsville.

Mr. Dayton, who works at Laclede Steel Co., also is a graduate of Granite City High School.

MR. AND MRS. GARY W. HYDEN. who were married in an evening ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Venice. She is the former Miss Marie Garris, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Garris, 217 Granville Ave., Venice.

Hyden-Garris Wedding At Venice First Baptist

The Rev. William Young officiated and an evening double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Rose Marie Garris and Gary Wayne Hyden on Dec. 22 at the First Baptist Church in Venice.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Garris, 217 Granville Ave., Venice, and Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hyden, 1015 Third St., Venice.

Miss Tami Eck sang "The Wedding Song" and "We've Only Just Begun," accompanied at the organ by Sheila Andrews, a niece of the groom.

The bride was escorted down the aisle and given in marriage by her uncle, Theodore Harnagel. She was gownned in a white velvet dress designed long princess lines with long tapered sleeves trimmed with Venice lace.

Matching lace edged the long mantilla veil and she carried a bouquet of snow crystal mums with greenery and long white satin streamers.

Mrs. Opal Parker, a sister of the groom, and matron of honor, chose a formal-length gown of aqua blue chiffon over tulle trimmed in lace of the same shade of blue. She held a floral arrangement of yellow and white pom poms festooned with yellow ribbons.

Christine Andrews, the flower girl, was dressed in a lavender chiffon frock and she carried a white basket filled with yellow and white pom poms.

The groom chose Gary Wallace to serve as his best man. Louis Garris, the bride's brother, and Kenneth Andrews, a nephew of the groom, were ushers.

Following the service a reception was given at the Venice Social Club, 717 Brown St., with Christine Andrews and Victoria Parker attending the guests.

Both mothers were attired in full-length gowns. Mrs. Garris selected a light blue dress with matching accessories and the groom's mother, Mrs. Hyden, was attired in a rose colored dress. Her accessories were in a matching shade.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Harnagel of Chester, Ill., and Mrs. Jack Harnagel and daughter, Mary Ellen.

Handbook on Care, Feeding Of Tenants and Landlords

Finding an apartment is difficult and once one is found, maintaining a good relationship with the landlord may be even more difficult.

To help alleviate the problems, Rex Hermesmyer, assistant director of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Housing Office, has written a "Tenant-Landlord Handbook."

The illustrated, 45-page handbook is available at no cost from the SIUE Housing Office in Room 113 of the General Office Building.

"The handbook provides the most current information about off-campus housing," Hermesmyer says. "It was prepared as an aid to students who are tenants and to landlords who will probably rent to students at some time."

In a section written for landlords, Hermesmyer suggests agencies in dealing with prospective student tenants.

He says openness can dispel "students' preconceptions that most student housing is awful" and also dispel a belief held by many landlords that all students are irresponsible tenants.

"Students are people, too," Hermesmyer says. "They need the same comforts and consideration that other people need. It's simply good business and friendly politics to try to understand students."

"Lights may be on into the middle of the night because students are people whose main concern is school—nothing may seem as important to them as studying."

Landlords should remember, Hermesmyer says, that students generally are broke.

"They have little beyond the necessities of room and board, tuition, books and school supplies," he writes in the handbook. "For you, the landlord, this means students have no money to do something with their room or apartment, to decorate it or make it more comfortable or attractive."

"Students generally do have, however, the energy and enthusiasm to make their place more attractive when materials are provided for the work that needs to be done."

In a general section written to students, Hermesmyer says that though much student housing is substandard, the situation in area communities is improving as students and landlords recognize each other's needs and responsibilities.

"One of our landlord's greatest concerns will be his property," Hermesmyer says. "This means your landlord will treat you better if you properly care for that yard, for instance. If you approach your landlord in a friendly manner, it's likely he'll respond in a friendly manner."

"Try to get inside his head. Landlords are constantly hit with complaints—when the water pipes freeze, when the air conditioner quits."

"For a change, try a friendly hello or a genuine compliment. Ask yourself, after talking with a prospective landlord, 'Would I mind dealing with him each month do I want to rent from this kind of person?'"

In various sections of the handbook, Hermesmyer gives specific tips about roommates, pets, parties, rubbish, economical shopping, insurance, dealing with the power and telephone companies, leases, small claims court, legal services and other common problems.

The handbook also outlines the various services offered to students and landlords by the SIUE Housing Office, including:

—An available housing list.

—A list of landlords who work closely with the Housing Office is available to prospective student tenants. Also, referral copies will be passed to each landlord indicating that he has a vacancy, if he will sign a statement that he does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color or national origin.

—Copies of a model tenant-landlord agreement.

—Mediation services. The Housing Office offers a non-binding mediation service in an effort to resolve any tenant-landlord dispute. All complaints must be in writing.

—Landlord consultation service to handle numerous requests from landlords and developers interested in providing university persons.

Data are available to assist persons in making a decision concerning the housing market in the area.

Park District Offers

Barn Theatre Outing

The Granite City Police District has scheduled a trip to the Barn Theatre at Sunday, Jan. 21, to see the stage production "Plaza Suite."

Harold Brown, park supervisor, said today that only 45 tickets will be available for local patrons, costing a total of $475 per person. The tickets include a motorcade dinner, roundtrip transportation and show.

Reservations and money must be received by Jan. 10 at the Wilson Park office, he added.

A bus will leave the park rink area at 4:30 p.m. the day of the excursion, Brown said.

$32,055 Released for Area Water Purity Control Plans

A state check for $32,055 was released Friday by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie to the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission to speed development of area water pollution control plans for Southwestern Illinois.

The money is to aid in preparation of area-wide metropolitan water quality management plans for communities served by the commission.

The commission is responsible for developing the plans for Madison, Monroe, Randolph and St. Clair counties.

Friday's check represents partial payment of a state planning grant of $45,793 offered to the commission Dec. 19.

"The grant is one type of aid for planning authorized under the 1970 Anti-Pollution Bond Act program to help local officials bring about a better environment for all of Illinois," Gov. Ogilvie said.

Completion of water quality management plans is a prerequisite for communities to receive state and federal construction grants for improving waste-water treatment facilities.

The grant offered SIMAPC for the full amount requested in the commission's work plan and budget, according to William L. Blaser, director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. Illinois EPA administers the grant program.

Much of the grant reimburses the commission for salaries expended to match a federal grant. The grant is one type of aid for planning authorized under the 1970 Anti-Pollution Bond Act program to help local officials bring about a better environment for all of Illinois," Gov. Ogilvie said.

Scouting Offers SIUE Offers High School Equivalency Training

Military personnel who lack high school diplomas can prepare for a diploma through the participation of women in the Boy Scouts of America locally.

It has been announced by Melvin Gillie, president of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Women now may serve as members and associate members of local councils, including membership on the council executive board and district committees. They also may be named as institutional representatives. Explorer advisors and skippers, members of the College Scouters Reserve, unit commissioners for Cub Scouting and as Cub Scouting roundtable commissioners.

Gillie said that 350 women already are serving in the local council in such positions as den leaders, den leader coaches, assistant den leaders, merit badge counselors, associate

Comment and Analysis

Jan. 2, 1973

Pre-Filed and New Legislation May Result in a Record Volume of Duties for Illinois' 78th General Assembly

Comment by the Press-Record bureau in Springfield — The 78th General Assembly will gather Wednesday, Jan. 10, for its official opening. On that date, the members will be sworn in and officials and party leaders in the House and Senate will be officially chosen.

After this is done, committee chairmen and committee members will be chosen. It takes some time to work out details of committee membership because legislators first make requests as to which committees they would like to have.

With the opening of a new General Assembly session, there will also have to be a rearrangement of the seats. Since there were many incumbents who did not seek re-election many of those who won re-election may want to change their seating. Also, leaders of the Assembly may want to be seated in such a manner as to have a good view of their individual side of the aisle.

There is also the problem of hiring of staff members. Granted that many will be carried over from the 77th General Assembly, but there is always someone leaving for another position in state government. There also are some staff positions which have been vacant for some time.

On top of all of this there has already been a host of bills pre-filed for the 78th General Assembly. It is anticipated by legislative observers that bill introductions in the 78th Assembly will surpass previous records.

It will be a busy winter and spring, once the chores associated with the beginning of a brand new legislative session have been completed.

Consumers, Elderly Could Boost Senator Charles Percy Of Illinois Toward the 1976 Nomination for President

Comment by the Press-Record bureau in Washington — Senator Charles H. Percy will go into the arena of the 1976 Congress as the champion of two national constituencies which could push his handwagon across the finish line if he makes an expected Presidential bid in 1976.

The Illinois Republican, going into his second term, won laurels in the 92nd Congress from consumers and the elderly.

No politician can discount the power of either. Everyone is a consumer and everyone grows old if he lives long enough. Unfinished battles on behalf of both loom over the 93rd Congress and Percy has already been singled out as a leader.

The Consumer Federation of America has selected him as keynote speaker for its seventh annual assembly here Jan. 24-26.

The Federation is the nation's largest consumer organization. It represents 200 local, state, regional and national affiliates.

Spokesmen will be here from local, state and federal consumer offices, trade unions, trade associations, business, industry, faculties and school bodies, as well as the general public. Altogether, a formidable array.

Erma Angevine, executive director of the Federation, said Percy was selected for his "outstanding" down-to-earth fight for a Consumer Protection Agency bill in the 92nd Congress's rush to adjournment.

"He not only co-sponsored the legislation but proved uniquely qualified, as a former businessman himself, to explain to the business community the benefits of such an agency," she said.

"His concern for the older consumer and for better nutrition for all consumers, also demonstrates his commitment."

Percy's commitment to the elderly, which he frequently emphasizes, was recognized last June by the National Council for Senior Citizens. When he addressed the council, its members gave him their award for outstanding service in the Senate in their behalf.

Rep. John Brademas, D-Ind., received a companion award for his leadership in the House.

When Percy on Dec. 7, 1971, announced his candidacy for re-election to the Senate, he talked of the nation's uncompleted tasks and the challenges of the 1970s.

"We have become aware of the shameful manner in which we have neglected the elderly citizens of this country," he said.

Much earlier, in a television report from Capitol Hill in response to a reporter's question on whether Congress was responding to the needs of the elderly, Percy said:

"No, we're still neglecting the needs of our senior citizens and this is why I intend to put a great deal more time into the work of the committee in the Senate on the aging."

Both Percy and Brademas, in their respective chambers, are expected to take up the fight early in the 93rd Congress for the Older Americans Act passed late in the 92nd Congress and vetoed by President Nixon so near to adjournment that there was no opportunity for an overriding vote on the bill.

This action has left federal programs for the elderly in a state of confusion and it is likely to spark conflict between the White House and Capitol Hill in the 93rd Congress.

Percy's aides, in the absence of their boss during his Far East tour, said they expect the senator to reintroduce his Consumer Protection Agency bill and to mount an offensive for the Older Americans Act as early as January or February. They assigned both measures high priority in Percy's office.

Nixon Serious About Reform—Bureaucracy Receives Jolt

Copley News Service

When he became President in 1969, Thomas Jefferson found it impossible to find the small but already growing federal bureaucracy in the manner he wanted.

He coined a phrase that many of his successors have found apt to describe the tenacity of officialdom:

"Few die and none resign."

Jefferson could prepare a lawsuit, map a township, design a home, compose a sonnet or write the Declaration of Independence.

Yet he found it difficult to implement his programs as chief executive because of the basic resistance of entrenched bureaucracy to change.

Today another President, Richard Nixon, has spent countless hours at his retreat in the Catskill Mountains pondering, as Jefferson did, how he can make the executive branch of government function more efficiently, economically and responsibly.

His announcement of high-level changes in his Administration places seasoned administrators in charge of two of the largest federal enclaves — the Defense Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare—and brings a successful corporation president into the government to head the Office of Management and Budget.

The reform Mr. Nixon has in mind will not be easy to achieve, as he is fully aware.

Nearly two years ago he proposed a reorganization of the executive into four super-departments.

The response by Congress has not been heartening, although many members admit openly that the present structure is unwieldy.

Instead of proceeding with reform, however, Congress is looking in the other direction, suggesting new agencies to administer new programs, such as those in cancer research and consumer protection.

Faced with an impenetrable bureaucracy, the President, in the last four years even while he was trimming 193,000 civilian workers from the Administration, has gained the attention of the bureaucracy.

The White House staffers have succeeded in cutting through much red tape that otherwise clogs government channels.

In the long run, however, neither the addition of new agencies by Congress nor enlargement of executive offices or even decentralization of government through revenue sharing — is the answer.

These steps may have short-term benefits, but they leave the immense, bloated and turgid U. S. civil service relatively intact.

Undoubtedly the President realizes this. His answer, in part, may have been the unprecedented request for resignations from about 2,000 of his key staff people.

In itself that number is small compared with the nearly three million federal employees.

However, it served notice that Mr. Nixon means business. It reportedly sent a tremor through the entire federal establishment.

We can presume that the President, like the farmer who hits a mule over the head with a two-by-four, has gained the attention of the bureaucracy.

Thus awakened, it might begin to respond to the more serious reform.

New Cabinet Makeup Emphasizes Trade, Economics

By JAMES CARY

Copley News Service

President Nixon's new second term Cabinet differs more in tone than substance from the original team he selected four years ago, but seems to project a new emphasis on economics and finance.

There are fewer outright political types also, a new high of three men with doctoral degrees, and the added and unusual dimension of a labor leader heading the Department of Labor.

This is not unprecedented but the one time it was tried before stirred major opposition. Plumber Martin Durkin soon left the Labor post in President Dwight Eisenhower's first Cabinet.

Otherwise, the two lineups are similar in their general conservative political orientation and equal emphasis on having four men each educated as attorneys.

The principal difference begins to emerge only when sweeping changes in a number of sub-Cabinet posts are examined alongside the type of men chosen for the new Cabinet.

The difference is the new thrust toward mobilizing talent to push economic, trade, finance, monetary reform and tougher, leaner handling of the budget.

Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz is the top man in this area.

In addition to his role as Treasurer, he has been named to lead a new Cabinet-level council on economic policy and to be the President's spokesman in that area.

Frederick Dent, secretary-designate of commerce; Secretary of Agriculture Earl Buttz; Transportation Secretary-designate Claude Brinegar; James T. Lynn, secretary of housing and urban development; and Caspar Weinberger, the new choice for secretary of health, education and welfare, are all experienced men in international business affairs or budgetary policy.

This new capability has been further enhanced by naming Roy Ash, an expert on government organization, to be director of the Office of Management and Budget.

William Calverly, former head of the Securities and Exchange Commission, to be undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

Both are sub-Cabinet posts. The men who come from largely political backgrounds in the new Cabinet are, Elliot Richardson, the secretary-designate of defense, a former Massachusetts attorney general; Secretary of Interior Rogers Morton, a former Maryland congressman; and Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst, formerly a member of the Arizona House of Representatives.

Weinberger, who moves to Commerce after serving Agriculture, is also a former member of the California State Assembly and was Gov. Ronald Reagan's director of finance there.

But both he and Kleindienst, more time in other work than seeking public office. This contrasts with Mr. Nixon's selection of three errors and a lieutenant-governor to serve in his first Cabinet.

George Romney of Michigan, secretary of housing and urban development; John Volpe of Massachusetts, transportation secretary; Walter Hickey of Alaska, the original Nixon secretary of interior; and Robert Finch, lieutenant-governor of California, who headed HEW.

Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird was also a long-time member of Congress from Wisconsin.

The high doctoral degrees credentials of the new Cabinet belong to Shultz, Buttz in agriculture, and Brinegar, the California oil executive who succeeds Volpe as secretary of transportation.

Shultz is a former dean of the graduate school of business administration at the University of Chicago; Buttz was dean of continuing education at Purdue University and Brinegar has a Ph.D. in economics research.

The only holdover from Mr. Nixon's original Cabinet who will remain in the same post is Secretary of State William Rogers, a close personal friend of the President.

However, Shultz, Kleindienst, Morton and Buttz are all remaining in Cabinet jobs they took over at various times during the President's first term.

It remains to be seen whether Peter J. Brennan, secretary-designate of labor, will escape the fate of Martin Durkin of former years.

Brennan, who heads the New York City and state building and construction trades councils, will be compelled in his new role to represent both management and labor in governmental dealings. Any leaning in his decisions could brew trouble.

Summarized, the 11 men who will be sworn in after Mr. Nixon's Jan. 20 inauguration are:

William Rogers, secretary of state; George Shultz, secretary of commerce; Earl Buttz, secretary of agriculture; Richard Kleindienst, attorney general; Rogers Morton, secretary of interior; Earl Buttz, secretary of agriculture.

Frederick Dent, secretary of commerce; Peter Brennan, secretary of labor; Caspar Weinberger, secretary of health, education and welfare.

James Lynn, secretary of housing and urban development, and Claude Brinegar, secretary of transportation.

1973 Could Be a Year When Illinois Legislators Are Kind to Taxpayers

What will the new year of 1973 bring, from Quad-City taxpayers' standpoint?

Potentially it should be a good year at the state level, what with Governor-elect Daniel Walker pledging no new or higher taxes and the General Assembly also likely to play a "watchdog" role regarding Illinois governmental spending.

This viewpoint is shared by W. Paul Neal Jr., who is legislative manager of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

This is how Mr. Neal sees the legislative season opening a week from tomorrow:

Illinois legislative politics during the next two years may struggle through a system of checkmates and counterbalances.

Republicans hold perilously thin one-vote margins in both the House (89-88) and Senate (39-29).

This is barely enough to organize both chambers to act as a checkmate or counterbalance to legislative action.

Democrats hold four of the statewide elective offices—governor, secretary of state, treasurer and superintendent of public instruction.

Republicans hold two key posts — attorney general and comptroller — which could checkmate or counterbalance legislative actions from both the legal and fiscal ends.

The Democratic administration can checkmate legislative actions through the use of the expanded veto powers granted under the new constitution.

The Republican majorities in both legislative chambers do not control the three-fifths margins necessary to override gubernatorial vetoes.

The GOP majorities are enough to withhold approval of amendatory vetoes. But this, too, can work both ways.

Republicans, if they act as a bloc with all members present and voting, can push through revised legislative programs — since they have the bare majority needed to pass legislation.

Votes needed in the house are 89 and in the Senate 30 to pass non-emergency legislation.

But for any legislation which calls for an immediate effective date or general obligatory bond authority without a referendum, there must be a three-fifths majority — 109 in the House and 34 in the Senate.

Support from both sides of the political aisle.

The same votes are needed for a veto override.

However, the attorney general can challenge the legality and constitutionality of legislative proposals and enacted legislation.

And the comptroller can legally challenge and scrutinize the dispersal of funds for any state programs until the Illinois Supreme Court, with a Democratic majority, and possibly the U. S. Supreme Court rules on its validity.

The key to this labyrinth of legal and legislative maneuverings is the degree of cooperation that can be achieved between its component parts.

There has been wide publicity on the possible conflict between the governor-elect and members of his own party.

How would he can cement a united front by various factions of the Illinois Democratic party may well determine the state's legislative programs in the yet-to-be-announced programs.

Another key may be the extent to which he carries through — despite party labels — the sound, developing programs of his Republican predecessor, Richard B. Ogilvie.

The same critical mass can be applied to legislative and state governmental policy toward a betterment of Illinois' economic climate.

Whether a favorable attitude toward business and maintenance of a competitive position with sister states and foreign interests can be maintained and solidified also depends, in large measure, on the political interrelationship within the state government's power structure.

The main business interests will be negotiated through the legislature within the framework of this new power structure.

Personal property tax abolition, income and sales tax balance, home rule powers, environmental control.

Occupational safety and health, workmen's and unemployment compensation, state "protection" measures.

Education financing and accountability, state reorganization, welfare and public employment early in the year.

It's perhaps too early to predict how these issues will be resolved until the newly-adjusted power structure adjusts itself into working relationships.

But one area seems certain to be scrutinized—state spending.

With the Democratic governor-elect promising no new or increased taxes, a Republican-controlled legislature, just now to maintain its prerogative on governmental purges, the winner should be the taxpayer.

As usual, those who observe the Assembly will be on the alert in Springfield during an entire legislative session, monitoring day-to-day action.

Starting with the opening session on Jan. 10, constant vigilance is a must in protecting the state's economic climate in the months ahead.

Aspirin and blood donors. . . To the many factors that can affect the blood of potential donors to blood banks, another has been added: whether or not the donor has taken aspirin during the week before donating blood.

Several studies have shown that bleeding time is prolonged for five days or more after taking a normal dose of aspirin. Also, platelet aggregation, an important factor in clotting, is interfered with by aspirin.

Two Boston doctors reported on a survey they conducted of 50 blood donors in which it was found that 21 of them had taken aspirin during the preceding week. Of these 21, all but 3 had abnormal bleeding times.

The doctors, C. Harold Attkie, Jr., and Anthony B. Hershman of Boston Medical Center Hospital, admit that "the possibility of having to exclude about one-half of all blood donors from serving as 'fresh blood' or platelet donors for transfusion for all blood banks."

A reader asks: "Do some disallowing of aspirin actually make the hands soft and smooth?"

It is extremely unlikely that any detergent will make the hands smooth or soft. If anything, the reverse is true. Dishwashing detergents are very efficient cleansers for dishes, but they're not good for skin.

Whether or not you get "dispan hands," probably depends on your own susceptibility — dry skin, allergies, use of too much soap or detergent, or exposure to substances that remove the skin's natural oils.

It's better to use a mild soap rather than on what brand of detergent you use.

The skin of the hands has amazing tolerance for a great variety of potentially irritating exposures. However, everyone's skin has a breaking point and may at some time become irritated.

Once the skin is injured it can't tolerate as much as it could before, and it should not come in contact with irritating substances if it isn't healed.

Suffice it to say that although detergents, correctly used, may be tolerated by most of us, it would be erroneous to assign a therapeutic benefit to these products.

TO CHRISTMAS DRIVE

To the Editor: I am profoundly grateful for the splendid coverage given me by you and your staff during the recent "Tree of Lights" campaign.

I am also so very grateful and thankful to the many, many kind people and organizations which so graciously helped me with their services and contributions, enabling us to achieve a most worthwhile goal.

Through everyone's kindness we were able to distribute 540 Christmas baskets to people in need who otherwise would not have enjoyed a Christmas dinner.

Our "Clothe A Child" program clothed 337 children. And many items of clothing, toys, etc., were donated to the Salvation Army.

There were 2,100 toys distributed to children this year. There were 927 families cleared through the Salvation Army for baskets, 387 of which were distributed by other worthy organizations.

Every item donated to the Army was processed and redistributed to people in need, causing their Christmas to be more cheerful than it otherwise would have been.

At this writing, I am happy to report that we have received over $11,738 of our goal of $12,000.

I regret that I am unable to thank each and every one in person so I take this, this joyous holiday season, to the Salvation Army, Captain and Mrs. Ron Kerley, goal.

We at the Salvation Army, goal. We at the Salvation Army, goal. We at the Salvation Army, goal.

State News--Award Grant to Check Radiation Exposure

An $88,000 contract, the first of its kind in the nation, has been awarded by the federal Environmental Protection Agency to the Illinois Department of Public Health to design, test and implement a project to measure radiation exposure to residents.

All sources of ionizing radiation, both natural and man-made, will be studied, Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, department director, said.

Project Officer Philip Brunner, chief of the department's division of radiological health, said the purpose of the project "is to assess radiation exposure received not only from traditional sources such as medical x-ray equipment and industrial facilities, but also from less clearly defined sources, such as occupations not usually associated with radiation; variations in radiation exposure from brick, frame and stucco housing and from electronic products."

The $88,000 award is to fund the first two phases of a three-year project. The first phase is to develop a plan submitted by the health department to the federal agency.

The first two phases call for development and implementation of the plan in an 18-county area and are scheduled for completion in one year.

Brunner said phase three will extend the project over the entire state and will take a minimum of two years to complete.

The $5 billion released for sewage treatment facility construction under the new federal Water Quality Act is expected to provide $12 million for the Illinois program by June 30, 1974, according to Director William L. Blaser of the state Environmental Protection Agency.

The act authorizes an increase in federal grant support from 50/50% to 75% of construction costs and will aid collection system construction and land acquisition as well as plant construction.

Blaser said the broadened program will increase federal support per project but may decrease the number of projects assisted. He explained the amount of federal funds for fiscal 1973 is the same as allocated for fiscal 1972 and that fiscal 1974 funds are increased by only $1 billion.

Because the new funds are extended to the states on a needs basis, Blaser said Illinois will receive 6.25% of the funds, or an estimated $125 million, in fiscal 1973 and an estimated $187 million in fiscal 1974.

In 1972, with distribution of funds based on population, Illinois received 5.41% or an estimated $106 million.

Target date for revision of federal regulations and guidelines to conform with grant project is Feb. 18, 1973.

The federal EPA has advised that no municipality should expect a federal grant offer or initiate construction of sewage treatment facilities until the project has been approved by the regional administrator.

Blaser said to initiate construction at this time may disqualify the project from receiving a federal grant but that those already under construction may be continued without fear of disqualification.

Although tied to the federal grant program, Illinois has existing grants for 170 sewage treatment projects while awaiting finalization of the federal position.

Cash grants totaling up to $500 will soon be available through the Department of Revenue to residents over 65 and to the disabled who accrue property taxes on their homes or pay rent.

Amount of the grant will be based on the property tax accrued during 1972 (payable in 1973) and paid in 1972, and the household income for 1972. Household income includes taxable income, pensions, annuities and social security benefits.

Persons 65 or over on Dec. 31, 1972, and those physically or mentally disabled for one year or more are eligible if they are homeowners or renters of single family dwellings, mobile homes, farm homes and units in multi-family dwellings, or residents in nursing homes or institutions and subject to property taxes.

The grant will be determined by the amount of property taxes or 25% of the rent in excess of 8% of income, whichever is less, plus 7% of income over $3,000.

The maximum grant is limited to $500 less $5 for each $100 of income. Registration forms for the grants are available from the revenue department. Completed forms should be sent to the Illinois Department of Revenue, P.O. Box 3124, Springfield, Ill. 62708.

The 23rd annual Illinois State Survey of Plan-do-the Construction of Hospitals and Medical Facilities has been completed.

Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, public health director, said federal approval of the plan will enable Illinois to receive $7.2 million in grant funds and $23 million in loan guarantees under the Hill-Burton program.

Yoder said the primary purpose of the survey "is to determine the Illinois communities that need to modernize or replace present health facilities and to establish priorities for federal funds."

Bi-State Agency Pledges Bus Job Rule Compliance

Bi-State Development Agency commissioners said at a board meeting Thursday afternoon that they will assure there is compliance with job anti-discrimination rules by the Transit Services Corp., which operates the agency's bus system.

The St. Louis district office of the U. S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has ruled that Transit Services "discriminates against Negroes as a class because of their race in hiring, promotions, wages, benefits and discharge." It also has found that women have been discriminated against in some job policies.

The Bi-State board learned the bus system lost $134,735 on November operations, as projected, after being directed, off set by drawing on a $1,280,000 Missouri operating subsidy; passenger revenue was down 3% because of icy weather.

A report showed the transit system lost $1,700,000 in nonfare revenue if it is to continue operating until June 30. Of that figure, $688,000 is required for operations and the remainder for bond debt. At present, operation is certain only until April.

Edward J. Delmore, Jr., of St. Louis, was re-elected as Bi-State board chairman and Roy May of Waterloo as secretary.

Substantial aid from the state of Missouri will be sought this year by the Bi-State agency to help meet the mounting deficit of the Transit System, it was noted.

No new subsidies will be sought, however, from Illinois, which gave the agency $415,000 during 1972 to apply toward debt relief, it was reported during the monthly meeting of the board of commissioners. Missouri provided no such funds last year.

The transit system is also expecting contributions from cities and towns in Illinois and Missouri.

Municipalities have received written suggestions from Bi-State that they pay a share of their federal revenue sharing funds to prevent a shutdown of the transportation system serving the communities on both sides of the river.

The operating deficit of $134,735 during November, the total operating deficit for the past 12-month period.

State police reported the Ryan auto was eastbound on Pontoon Road and Burns was northbound on Route 151.

Testimony Reversed on State Racing Schedule

Edward Justice Long and Robert Elson of the Illinois Racing Board Saturday reversed earlier testimony and admitted they had met privately with a third board member the night before the 1973 horse racing schedule was adopted.

They changed their testimony after Bernard Carey told the Illinois Legislative Investigating Commission that the meeting had taken place before the controversial schedule was approved 4-3.

Chief critics of the schedule are that it would return less tax dollars to the state than another proposal and that it gave racing dates to corporations headed by William S. Miller, who was indicted along with former Gov. Otto Kerner on race track stock conspiracy charges.

Attorney General William Scott has asked the courts to throw out the 1973 schedule.

Defections in Both Parties on Speaker

Possible defections by two House Republicans have threatened to upset Illinois House Speaker Robert Blair despite the 89-88 GOP edge. But the Democratic contender, Clyde Choate of Anna, also may face defections, it was reported Friday by a group of independent Democrats.

The 14 said they may attempt to force parliamentary reform, utilizing a series of motions in the close race.

Rep. Harold Katz of Glenview said the group wants to change to end bills bypassing committees; require an improved agenda with advance notice of consideration of bills before committees and on the House floor; and require disclosure by the House speaker of all contributions by any House official, and subsequent dispersals of such money.

Michael N. Billick, Rural Route Two, Box 756, was charged with following too close after a driver accident at 12:30 p.m. Friday in the 1600 block of State Street.

Police said Billick's auto failed to halt in time and struck a car operated by Earl W. Williams, 14 Victoria Drive, which was stopped to allow a third vehicle, driven by Laird M. Middleton of St. Louis, to back into a parking area.

Williams' car was then pushed into the rear of the vehicle attempting to park. Bernice Williams, 55, a passenger, was taken to an ambulance at DePaul Hospital, St. Louis, the police report stated.

AUTOS COLLIDE

Autos driven by Ida E. Zimmermann, 2401 Winters Drive, and Richard D. Davis, 2839 Lincoln Ave., collided at 8:45 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of E. 27th Street and Nameoki Road.

4 Hurt in Crash on Rt. 151, W. Pontoon

Cars driven by Mrs. Etta Fay Ryan, 4737 Warnock Ave., and John R. Burns, St. Louis, collided at Federal Aid Route 151 and West Pontoon Road at 1:30 p.m. Friday, resulting in injuries to two passengers and both drivers. They were taken to St. Elizabeth hospital by ambulance.

State police reported the Ryan auto was eastbound on Pontoon Road and Burns was northbound on Route 151.

Yoder said the primary purpose of the survey "is to determine the Illinois communities that need to modernize or replace present health facilities and to establish priorities for federal funds."

LOOKING FOR KILLERS

Area police received a notice at 10:10 p.m. Saturday to be on the alert for a 1972 Buick Skylark with Michigan 1 license plates. The car was seen 70 miles south of Chicago at Gilman, Ill. and was believed to be carrying killers of six Detroit police officers.

VANDALS DAMAGE LIGHTS

Donald O'Hara, restaurant manager, reported to police that vandals broke globes on the exterior post lamps at the George Linsey Family Steak House, 3300 Nameoki Road, after 11:15 p.m. Friday.

IT'S GOING AROUND AGAIN THIS YEAR

If you ask a friend at this time of year what it was that had kept him home sick he is very likely to give you that stock answer—"Oh, it's just something that's been going around." Just what that something is nobody seems to be very sure of except that it's probably a virus of a bug.

In all probability, it will be "going around" again this winter and many of us will be the recipients of its uncomfortable symptoms. So remember, the best advice is rest, fluids and aspirin to start and then call your doctor if you cannot shake it quickly.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Tragedies, Building, Business Ups and Downs Mark 1972

A GIANT FIREBALL erupted and destroyed a portion of the 800 block of Madison Avenue in Madison May 2, injuring 20 persons. An explosion at 2:20 a.m. was followed by a column of flame witnesses said was 500 feet high. The cause of the disaster has never been determined.

A NEW HIGH SCHOOL, Granite City High School North, began to take shape during the year at Nameoki and Maryville Roads. The school is scheduled to open in September 1973. This view is from the cafeteria (not walled in) with the gymnasium in the background.

CRANE FALLS. July 14, a giant crane with a 200 foot boom toppled onto its side in the rear parking lot of Granite City High School, damaging five autos and a part of the school's music room.

BUSINESS PROSPERED in some Quad-City plants during 1972, including the Granite City A. O. Smith Corp. plant. Here local officials gathered with company personnel Sept. 13 to celebrate the production of the plant's 10 millionth auto frame.

LONG AWAITED IMPROVEMENT. Crossing lights at Maryville School were finally installed in March after lengthy squabbles as to who was going to pay the bill. The crossing had been the scene of numerous accidents including a Jan. 18, 1971, mishap in which a car struck and killed Nancy Lively, 7, of Granite City, and seriously injured Linda Hall, 9, also of Granite City.

A STATE CHAMPIONSHIP for the Granite City High School soccer team was a highlight of the year. On Nov. 11, the Warrior squad brought home the first state crown ever won in the sport. Here Warrior Randy Worthen, dark shirt, an all-state player, charges the net during a home game.

NEW LEVEE BOARD MEMBERS of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District met Dec. 6 to pledge equal service between the Madison and St. Clair county portions of the district. From left are Russell Robinson of Granite City, Charles Meyers, President Romel Wilbon and Jack Scoville, all of St. Clair County. Trustee William Ebersoldt of Venice was ill. In December, Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie signed a bill splitting the district by the county lines.

PILOT KILLED. Dr. George T. Carr, a dermatologist at Ferguson, Mo., and Belleville, was fatally injured when his small airplane crashed onto the edge of the road bordering Horseshoe Lake Aug. 6. The plane, equipped with pontoons, apparently fell short of reaching the water during an attempt to land.

A CITY LANDMARK, Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, was razed Oct. 2 to make room for a new church building at the same location. The old church, formerly the Park Avenue Methodist Church, was dedicated Feb. 11, 1903.

FATAL ACCIDENTS took numerous lives in this area during the year. Shown is the auto in which Robert D. Hancock and Ralph Skaggs, both of Granite City, were critically injured when their auto overturned and struck a utility pole on Route 151 Sept. 15. Skaggs died Oct. 11.

MORE ABOUT John Allen

see the best doctor in the United States." Patrolman Young continued, "Dr. Berson gave John Allen a prescription for new type sunglasses which will shield the eyes from the side as much as possible by not allowing the sun's rays to penetrate from any angle."

He explained that brilliant light, such as sunlight, advances deterioration of sight more quickly than normal light.

Another new fact discovered in recent months by the U.S.'s top research scientist into retinitis pigmentosa was learned by the Youngs in Boston.

Earlier investigation brought to light that the disease is hereditary, but despite thorough tracing through John Allen's lineage, no evidence of blindness has been uncovered on either side of the family.

Through hundreds of interviews with retinitis pigmentosa victims, digging into thousands of family histories and consultations with other scientists around the world, Dr. Berson found a single factor kept repeating itself in a majority of cases—the patient had an ancestor who originated from Holland.

"From what we were told, the disease is more prevalent in Holland than anywhere else," Young said, adding, "This is not just a theory but a fact."

The new data probably has pinpointed the hereditary factor in John Allen's case—his great-grandfather, on Jane's side of the family was Dutch.

The technique used by Dr. Berson could hinder John Allen more than help him, the parents were advised, but they were invited to bring the boy back to see the specialist at any time and were assured that research is continuing day-by-day which may uncover a different approach to the disease.

The Youngs' journey to the Eastern states was not all medically oriented.

Notwithstanding the disappointing results in Boston, the trip turned into a "most enjoyable and memorable experience—one that John Allen will carry with him throughout life," the father said.

While in Massachusetts, the Youngs and Janet's mother, Mrs. Thelma Cox, 2800 Washington Ave., briefly stayed at the Peppermint (Mass.) home of Mrs. Cox's brother, Owen Hudson, located about 60 miles from Boston.

Hudson is a former local resident and a civilian employee of the U.S. Army, worked in the communications division at the Granite City Army Installation before being transferred to Fort Devens, Mass. He now is in charge of all communications for a six-state region at the Massachusetts facility.

An exhilarating event for John Allen took place at the military base when he was inducted into the Green Berets as an honorary member, Al Young reported.

The 8-year-old boy received a genuine "green beret" as worn by the command-trained outfit and an impressive certificate bearing the green shield and motto "De Oppresso Liber" (To Liberate the Oppressed) and a blue and yellow sash signifying a jagged lightning flash superimposed on a sword, the airborne unit's own emblem.

OUTSIDE FBI HEADQUARTERS, the local visitors pose with their helpful escort, James Ellis, a member of The White House security detail and a former resident of Pontoon Beach, who assisted the Young family during their Washington visit. From left to right are Mrs. Thelma Cox, John Allen Young, 9, Ellis, Mrs. Janet Young and Tracy Young, 6.

The certificate, signed by Moran A. McKenzie, commanding officer of the 10th Special Forces (Airborne), 1st Special Forces, officially names John Allen a unit member.

Hudson also took his nephew on a tour of the authentic-looking replicas of the "Mayflower" and the early colonies at Plymouth, Mass., among other historic landmarks.

Culminating the entire itinerary were events uncanceled despite having been on duty all night. Due to the size of Ellis' compact car, the Youngs' luggage traveled by taxi from airport to hotel.

"President Nixon was in a top-level conference while we were at the White House and the father related, 'But one of the men involved in the meeting came out and seeing us to wait a moment, telling us that the President had something for John Allen.'

"He returned with two gold tie clasps inscribed with the President's signature and decorated with the Presidential Seal of the United States," Young said.

Two gold pins formed into a looped bow from which are suspended the same Presidential Seal were presented to Mrs. Young and Tracy, along with several large color photographs of the Nixon family and exterior and interior shots of The White House.

The Youngs were told later the helpful man is the President's closest friend and key advisor.

Before leaving the nation's capital, the family was escorted by Ellis to FBI headquarters, through the Capitol Building, Washington Monument, Bureau of Engraving, John F. Kennedy Cultural Center, Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and visited the late John Kennedy's grave in Arlington Cemetery.

"John Allen also got a great kick from seeing the two Panda bears from China at the Washington Zoo," his Dad said.

The amount of time involved in the deterioration rate of John Allen's condition is speculative, Young said.

"Dr. Berson described the ailment and the rate of decline as similar to traveling on a plateau, which can dip off at any time to a lower level or degree."

"There is no way of telling if complete loss of vision will occur in two weeks or two years," Young said, adding, however, that John Allen's vision has deteriorated to an extent within the past year.

Council Hopes to Learn Cost Tonight of Planning Traffic Controls at 5 Intersections

The Granite City Council has requested Harland Bartholomew & Associates of Clayton, Mo., to prepare a cost estimate for detailed planning of a five-project "Topics" program and asked that the estimate be given to the council in its regular meeting tonight.

The council acted after Harold Thurmond, a representative of the engineering firm, which has handled Topics planning for Mayor Donald Topics advised the city that there is no assurance that funds for Topics projects will be available after July next year.

The Topics program is a state matching funds plan for installation of roadway and intersection safety features. The city may provide its matching funds from motor fuel tax revenue. The program is known as the Traffic Operations Program to Improve the Capacity and Safety of city streets.

Thurmond said that unless the city develops its projects immediately, complete with construction planning, it faces a loss of state and federal Topic funds.

The Granite City program includes reconstruction of the intersection of Madison Avenue and Johnson Avenue, reconstruction of the intersection of Madison Avenue and Johnson Avenue, reconstruction of the intersection of Madison Avenue and Johnson Avenue, reconstruction of the intersection of Madison Avenue and Johnson Avenue.

Walker - Attack Crime Syndicate, Narcotics

Governor-elect Daniel Walker on Saturday chose Wayne A. Kerster to head the Illinois Bureau of Investigation.

Kerster, 33, assistant first deputy police commissioner of New York City, leads a 500-man investigative force dealing with organized crime intelligence and internal police investigation. Holder of a University of Chicago law degree, he is a former special counsel with the Illinois Drug Abuse Program.

Walker commented, "I made no secret during the campaign that I was not satisfied with the role assigned to the FBI."

An attack on the crime syndicate and narcotics trade can only be mounted on a statewide scale. That will be Wayne Kerster's primary task.

EPA Hearing to Decide Size of Treatment Plant

Data supporting the proposed construction of a secondary sewage treatment plant with a capacity of 23 million gallons daily will be presented by Granite City officials at a hearing by the federal Environmental Protection Agency in the city hall here at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Thurmond's hearing will be to show cause why state and federal EPA authorities should not order a reduction in the size of the city's secondary treatment plant as it is now designed. The city's present primary sewage treatment plant has a capacity of 20 million gallons daily, with an average daily treatment of about 5 million gallons.

Dr. Theis

County Tuberculosis Association and later with the Mental Health Association to provide better facilities and treatment for all people.

Dr. Theis was honored at a meeting on May 5, 1971, of the Lewis-Clark Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association when he was given special tribute for 35 years as director of the Madison County Tuberculosis Association.

He was cited as a pioneer of the anti-tuberculosis league and one of the founding members of the Madison County TB Association.

Dr. Theis had held every office and major committee chairmanship in the association. During his tenure with voluntary tuberculosis groups, he had observed Christmas Seal contributions increase from $18 in 1936 to $84,319 in 1970.

Dr. Theis suffered his first heart attack while attending a board meeting of the Madison County Mental Health Association held in Granite City three years ago and had been in declining health since that time.

Hospitalized on several occasions, he underwent major surgery on Dec. 5 at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, for amputation of his left leg and later was transferred to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lida Marie (Carter) Theis, two sons, Dr. Edward Howard Theis of Fond du Lac, Wis., and Granite City attorney Philip Ames Theis; five grandchildren, Tracey Lynn, Mark Charles and Lisa Courtney Theis of Fond du Lac, and Terri Kaye and Philip Andrew Theis of Granite City, and many nieces and nephews.

A special mass will be conducted at St. Elizabeth Hospital Chapel at 5 p.m. on Friday.

Memorial services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at St. John United Church of Christ, 3901 Nantawki Road. Details are given in the obituary column.

FINED FOR CONDUCT

Salaries Chief Issue Today for Legislature

The Illinois General Assembly is meeting today in a new special session called by outgoing Governor Richard D. Ogilvie.

The topics are bigger legislative expense accounts, salary increases, judges' salaries, officials, and establishment of a salary for the new office of state comptroller.

Acting comptroller or officials like the new governor, secretary of state and attorney general cannot get raises until 1977, Gov. Ogilvie said. The present levels were set in 1965, and Attorney General William Scott is paid less than some state attorneys.

Earlier attempts failed due to disagreement over details and also a State Supreme Court over failure to confirm Ogilvie appointees.

Card of Thanks
WE WISH to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and floral offerings extended at the death of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Gertrude M. Schnyder. Our special thanks to Dr. Paul Surber, Meriter Funeral Home, pallbearers and organist, and the family of GERTRUDE M. SCHNYDER.

Card of Thanks
WE WISH to thank our kind friends and neighbors of Mitchell for their acts of love and sympathy during our recent loss of loved one and also for the beautiful floral tributes. THE FAMILY OF FAIRY LASWELL
We wish to express our deep gratitude to our many friends and relatives for the kindness, sympathy, beautiful floral tributes and spiritual bouquets in the loss of our beloved Mother. We especially thank the Rev. Henry Mack for his prayers and comforting words.
The Family of ZORA HORD

In Memoriam
In loving memory of my mother, MINNIE ROWLEY, who passed away January 3, 1971.
What is home without a mother?
All things this world may send, But when I lost my darling mother,
I lost my dearest friend,
I lost my guide and friend,
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Potillo and Grandchildren

In loving memory of LEOTA SUMMERS, January 2, 1972.
The flowers we place upon your grave,
May wither and decay,
But love for you who sleeps beneath
Will never fade away.
Sadly missed by
Husband and Family

In memory of JOHN E. STALLINGS, who died Jan. 1, 1969.
Sadly missed by
SON, DAUGHTER-IN-LAW AND GRANDCHILDREN

In loving memory of IRENE BALDWIN who passed away Dec. 28, 1966.
No one knows how much we miss you.
No one knows the bitter pain We have suffered. Since we lost you.
Life has never been the same. In our hearts your memory lingers.
Sweetly tender, fond and true, There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
Sadly missed by
DAUGHTER AND FAMILY

LITTLE MISS 1973 at St. Elizabeth Hospital is Veronica Jeri Burns, held by her mother, Mrs. Dennis (Vicky) Burns of Caseyville. The six pound, five ounce infant arrived at 5:43 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 1. Holding gifts for the new mother and child, contributed by local merchants through the Granite City Jaycees, are Mrs. Kathryn Rusick, R.N. in nursery, and Les Frisse, hospital unit manager.

Baby Girl Is First '73
Arrival at GC Hospital

A layette prepared by the Granite City Jaycees, among several gifts received by Veronica, was the first New Year's baby born at St. Elizabeth Hospital.
Little Miss New Year is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis M. (Vicky) Burns, 300 E. James St., Caseyville. She arrived at 5:43 p.m. Monday, more than 17½ hours after the New Year began.
Granite City merchants donating items for the layette were: Glick's, Leader's and a Carp's department stores and J. C. Newberry Co. Mrs. Pat A. Newman, 272 Sunset Drive, donated the baby blanket. A bouquet of red roses was more than 17½ hours after the New Year began.

Stallings Pupils Gain Extra Day's Vacation
Pupils at Stallings Grade School gained an extra day's vacation because the classes were cancelled due to a burned out motor in the building's heating system. Students will report at the usual time Wednesday.
Principal Edward Binsack said repairs to the furnace were almost complete at 10:30 a.m. today and that heat would be produced in the building by this afternoon.
Teachers at Stallings failed to benefit from the unexpected day's vacation, however. Staff members reported to work as usual and were reassigned to other Granite City schools, Binsack said.

TRUCK DRIVER INJURED
Edward E. Musterman, 23, of Hazelwood, Mo., was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1 a.m. Sunday after he was run over when the truck he was driving ran off Route 157, just south of Highway 162. Sheriff's deputies said Musterman told them he fell asleep and his truck swerved across the highway, overturning into a ditch.

Two Hurt in Three-Car Crash on Nameoki Rd

A three-car accident on Nameoki Road at East 23rd Street at 7:50 p.m. Friday resulted in injuries to two persons and the driver of one vehicle receiving a ticket.

Charged with failing to yield the right of way was Daniel D. Snyder of Collinsville, driver of a taxicab, whose vehicle failed to halt at the intersection and slid at right angles into oncoming traffic.

Snyder's taxi was struck by autos operated by John E. Kleyer, 261 of Dupu and David J. Yount, 51, of Edwardsville. A passenger in the taxi, Frances Wickham, 43, of 2301 Nameoki Road, Lot 11, sustained a one-inch cut to the forehead and was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital and released. Gary Gresham, 36, years, of 1415 Rhodes St., who was riding in the Yount auto, was treated at the hospital emergency room for an abrasion to the right knee. He had x-rays taken and was released.

Seek Helicopter Permit At New Laundry Site

The Illinois Department of Aeronautics expects to approve a permit for establishment of a restricted landing area heliport at Rock Road and the Great River Road (Federal Aid Route 1317), it was reported today.

The department will issue the permit on or shortly after Jan. 17, and in the meantime will receive any objections or comments that area residents may wish to file prior to issuance of the order, according to department officials.

The action is scheduled at the request of Charles Todd, Inc., St. Louis, which plans to build a commercial laundry at that location.

THEFT FROM CAR

Miss Leeta Marmion, 3015 Denver St., reported to sheriff deputies the theft of items from her auto while it was parked on Arlington Road at 8 p.m. Friday evening. She said she experienced car trouble and when she returned with a tow truck discovered her purse with papers, change cards and a wallet valued at $56 had been stolen.

1966 AUTO STOLEN

A 1966 black and grey auto owned by Linda Ostresh, 1617 Edwards St., was stolen from her home between Wednesday and Friday while she was visiting at the home of a sister, she reported at 7 p.m. Friday.

Lady Professor To Lead Illinois Environmental Unit

Mrs. Mary Lee Leahy will be the new director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, it was announced Saturday by Governor-elect Daniel Walker.

An assistant professor of law at the University of Chicago, she helped lead the 1970 Constitutional Convention effort to include the environmental article in the new state constitution.

Walker described her as the person who best "represents both mine and the people's concept of someone protecting our air and water."

He said she was primarily responsible for the right of Illinois citizens to sue to protect individuals' rights to a healthy environment.

The governor-elect also appointed John D. Foster, 58, as chairman of the Illinois Civil Service Commission. Anthony G. Angelos, 47, as director of the Department of Insurance; and Ira J. Kaufman, 44, as chairman of the Illinois State Toll Highway Authority.

Foster is an executive with Marcor, the firm Walker left to run for governor.

Angelos is a Chicago financier and business consultant and Kaufman is president of an investment house.

Frank P. Avgides, 75, Retired Barber, Dies

Frank P. Avgides, 75, of 1238 Seventh St., Madison, a retired barber died at 3:15 a.m. Friday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

A native of Balkislar, Turkey, he had resided in the Quad-Cities for 50 years.

Mr. Avgides was a member of St. Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox Church in East St. Louis.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Ann Avgides, two daughters, Mrs. Alexander (Dina) Delekaris of Grandview, Mo., and Miss Frances Avgides of Madison, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

ATTEMPT TO ENTER HOME

Mrs. James Swigert, 2540 Jordan Ave., reported an attempted break-in at her home at 10:20 a.m. Friday. The would-be intruder broke into the basement window, pushed in the window frame and forced another window. Nothing appeared to be missing, she told police.

Mike Bilbrey New Order Of Arrow Lodge Chief

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
Installation of lodge officers for 1973 and presentation of Vigil Certificates and Outstanding Service awards highlighted the annual meeting of the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, Friday night at the First United Methodist Church in Collinsville. Nearly 200 members attended.

Mike Bilbrey, Venice, was installed as lodge chief. Bilbrey is president of Explorer Post 104, sponsored by the Madison Lions Club and the Madison Police Department.

A Vigil member, he is the retiring lodge secretary. For the past two summers Bilbrey has served as a member of the Camp Sunnen staff.

Brad Cowan, Granite City, was installed as vice-chief. A position he held in 1972. Cowan is president of Explorer Post 104, sponsored by the Concordia Lutheran Laymen's League. He is a Brotherhood member of the Arrow and also has worked on the camp staff the past two summers.

Jeff Tolliver, Venice, was installed as lodge secretary and Greg Durbin, Highland, Ill., as Treasurer.

Mrs. James Swigert, 2540 Jordan Ave., reported an attempted break-in at her home at 10:20 a.m. Friday. The would-be intruder broke into the basement window, pushed in the window frame and forced another window. Nothing appeared to be missing, she told police.

William Monical, Council Scout Executive and supreme chief of the fire, was installing officer.

Post 104 and an Ordeal member, presented to five members of the lodge: Ray Gaudert Jr., Dave Gilmore, Jack Small, Tolliver and Bilbrey.

Special guests of honor for the evening were Henry D. Karandjeff and G. Rollin Henn, both members of the council executive board, who were largely responsible for the acquisition of Camp Sunnen.

Karandjeff and Henn were presented with a large scale model of Camp Sunnen made by Vice-Chief Cowan. Henn and Karandjeff were members of the camp acquisition committee since 1951 when they first began negotiations for Sunnen. The two men hold the coveted Silver Beaver award and are past presidents of the local council.

Chief Toth announced that the winner of the camp promotion slogan contest was Explorer Denny Lybarger of Post 38, Edwardsville, who also is an Arrow member.

The official camp promotion slogan submitted by Lybarger is "I'm for Sunnen, Sunnen's for me—see you there in '73." Lybarger received a free week at summer camp from the lodge and $10 spending money from the council camping committee.

An original, humorous and semi-authentic play written by Chief Toth, titled "It's Ours," traced the development of Camp Sunnen from the opening summer in 1953 until the present time.

A humorous walk-on-type skit relating to Camp Sunnen was presented by Arrowman John Capello of Collinsville. Arrowman Father Anthony Rachel, S.J., a member of the St. Louis University staff, and an active Scouter, gave the invocation.

Visiting Arrowmen from the Blackhawk Lodge of the Piasa Bird Council, with offices in Wood River were Lodge Chief Kevin Lindsey and Allan Klope, district chairman of the Fort Russel district, and member of the neighboring council's executive board.

HIT AND RUN DAMAGE
A traffic signal at Sixth street and McCambridge Avenue, Madison, was knocked down by a hit and run vehicle.

Leon Kozielek, Madison, reported the damage to police at 1:50 a.m. Monday.

High Speed Train To Chicago Will Begin This Year

Amtrak, the federally-aided firm which is expanding passenger train service, announced Friday a high-speed turbine-powered train will begin operating between St. Louis and Chicago this summer.

The trains are to include two built in the U.S. and two leased from France. They utilize a low center of gravity to achieve faster speed on existing tracks.

In addition to the Chicago-St. Louis run, Chicago-Milwaukee service is planned.

Five-car, 304-passenger trains costing $3,200,000 will be used here, with top speed boosted from 90 miles an hour to well over 100. There will be air-line testcases, and it will be noted that the slower-than-air surface speed will be partly offset by elimination of travel to and from airports.
